1) Thinking about your own school and your own practice which tenet would be a place to further develop the work.

2) Thinking about the selected area what makes sense as a place to begin planning for growth and change? Why?

3) Is this something that you see as doable? How do you know that it is doable?

4) What are your first or next steps for planning and action?

5) What might be some challenges, resistance to the work/change?

6) How will you begin to evaluate the change and the process?
